Cocopah Communication and Community

Hi Cocopah Parents,

As the 2009-2010 homeroom parent coordinator, my goal is to promote communication among parents, faculty, and students and to enrich the sense of community at Cocopah. To help us achieve this, we need at least one homeroom parent for each first hour class.

As a homeroom parent volunteer, you will have a great opportunity to directly impact the quality of our children's middle school experience, work with great teachers, and increase your personal Cocopah family network. The specific homeroom parent responsibilities include:

- Maintaining regular contact with the teacher to ensure that his/her needs are met.
- Assisting teachers with organizing events and activities for the class.
- Acting as point of contact with parents regarding any class activities.
- Assisting in the year-end fundraising event for a class basket creation.

Please join me by completing the information below and returning it with the other Welcome Back packet items. I look forward to working with you and to our continued effort in building a network of community and communication at Cocopah!
